

Here is the BECON for 1/24/2025

We had students from Central High in for another round of speeches. And as always they were well prepared and high achievers. The students were:

Evan Miller

Kelly Early - accompanied by her parents (Amy and Steve)

Bailee Roesch - accompanied by her parents (Kristy and Tori)

Tony Parish told us that they will have the annual Super Bowl board at breakfast next week. Try your hand at winning some loot.

Shawnee asked us to bring socks to next week's meeting and try and fill up the box from the Holiday Party. If you have any new socks, please bring them in for the donation.

Shawnee also told us that there are two events in February. Harlem Globetrotters on February 6th and Monster Trucks on February 22nd. Go in and mark yourself available to work or not.

Student Speakers.

First up was Kelly Early. She spoke about keeping your moral compass up in a negative world. When talking to an exchange student from Italy, she found out that the real world has different morals than hers. People view the world negatively and the belief in God has fallen. She talked about practicing her faith and setting her morals to a high standard and holding herself accountable to remain there.

Kelly swims, is in choir and student council. She would like to go to Ave Maria University in Florida and study Forensic psychology.

Second was Bailee Roesch. She spoke about the role community service plays in her life. She is in several service clubs at school. She volunteers whenever she can. Most recently she volunteered with Eagle Mount. She helped teach and coach soccer skills to the people in the program.

Bailee is very busy. She is captain of the Central Soccer team. She also swims, plays tennis and is in the band.

She has not decided where she will go to school. She is looking at Colorado State, Boise State, and University of Wisconsin.

Third was Evan Miller. He also spoke about keeping a high moral compass. The biggest takeaway is that he does not participate in social media. He stays positive and keeps his faith. Faith gives him a sense of peace. He is another busy student. He plays tennis, golf and is in band. He plans to study biology and look to further his career in the medical field. He is looking at University of Washington, University of Utah, and Montana State.

Lastly,

Bruce Jensen was the big winner of the pot today.

Until Next time.
